The Red Lion Hotel is a combination of 15th, 16th and 17th century architecture and is furnished with antiques throughout. Privately owned by the Gill family the hotel offers personal hospitality, with friendly and attentive service. The hotel includes restaurant, bar and private meeting rooms.

Location

The Red Lion Hotel is located at the foot of the Bridge at the entrance to the market town of Henley-on-Thames with views of the famous Henley Royal Regatta and Festival. The hotel provides an ideal base from which to explore The Cotswolds, The Chilterns, Oxford, Bath and Windsor. Henley is approximately one hour from London and 40 minutes from Heathrow Airport. We can assist with travel arrangements to and from London, the airports and mainline railway stations.

Directions

The Red Lion Hotel is remarkably accessible however you decide to travel, whether it's by road, rail or air.

The M4 - Heathrow Airport 40 minutes approx. - and M40 give access from London and the West Country. The M25 - Gatwick Airport 80 minutes approx.- and the Oxford Ring Road allow access from nearby areas.

There is an hourly train service to Henley from London and the mainline Station at Reading is only 20 minutes away. Henley Train Station is only a five minute walk from the Hotel.

Parking is available free of charge to all guests travelling by car.

Restaurant and Bar

The restaurant and bar are central to entertaining and hospitality at The Red Lion and are open to both guests and non-residents alike. The Restaurant at The Red Lion has a small locally sourced à la carte menu which changes frequently. Open for lunch and dinner every day with a traditional Roast on Sundays.

The Snug Bar with its open fire offers a warm atmosphere and is used by both hotel guests and local residents. Fine Wines and spirits are available along with locally brewed beers. Light meals are also available.

A room service menu is available for those wishing to eat in the privacy of their room.
